Donovan Gets Cuba Message

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 24 (AP). — Prisoner-exchange lawyer James B. Donovan said last night he had received a "communication" from Cuba concerning his efforts to free 1,113 Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners. Mr. Donovan, campaigning here for election to the U. S. Senate, declined "in the interest of the mission" to disclose the contents of the message.

He said he would "be up most of the night on the telephone" because of the development.

The Brooklyn lawyer, suffering from laryngitis, gave a written statement to a reporter. It said in part:

"I have received a communication from Alfredo Sanchez, chairman of the Cuban Families Committee for liberation of prisoners of war.

"Mr. Sanchez, accompanied me to Havana and is still there.

"I am conferring with other members of the Committee to determine our future course of action."
